

Batman smashes up his Batmobile - Scholland Equestrian

Written by Administrator

Monday, 01 May 2000 00:00 - Last Updated Monday, 07 April 2008 14:29

Scholland Equestrian comes to the rescue.

Whilst negotiating a tricky piece of straight road, Batman smashed up his car yesterday. The Batmobile suffered £30,000 worth of damage and will be off the road for five months.

On hearing of Batman's predicament, Scholland Equestrian came racing to the rescue with a free loan of their Bathorse.

The Bathorse, can out-accelerate all known cars and, with wind assistance, can leap the tallest buildings. A very emotional Batman said "this is a wonderful gesture from Scholland Equestrian, I don't know how I can ever repay them for their kindness"